present an evening in honor of Sir Richard Feachem:

“Reengineering Aid: A Bold Agenda for the 21st Century”

- Tuesday, March 29, 2011
Music Room, The Mission Inn
- 5:30 p.m. reception & buffet
  - 6:30 p.m. talk & discussion

Please join us in welcoming Professor Sir Richard Feachem, Executive Director of Global Health Sciences, Director of the Global Health Group at UC San Francisco, and Professor of Global Health at both UCSF and UC Berkeley. He is also a visiting professor at London University and an honorary professor at the University of Queensland.

Sir Richard will discuss the importance of shifting foreign aid from “hard” sectors such as military, roads and such, to “soft” areas including global health and education, and preventing pandemics.

From 2002 to 2007, Sir Richard served both as founding Executive Director of the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria and Under Secretary General of the United Nations. During this time, the Global Fund grew from scratch to become the world’s largest health financing institution for developing countries, with assets of $11 billion, supporting 450 programs in 136 countries.

From 1999 to 2002, Professor Feachem was the founding Director of the Institute for Global Health at UCSF and UC Berkeley. From 1995 until 1999, he was Director for Health, Nutrition and Population at the World Bank. Previously (1989-1995), he was Dean of the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine. Professor Feachem served as Chairman of the Foundation Council of the Global Forum for Health Research; Treasurer of the International AIDS Vaccine Initiative; Council Member of Voluntary Service Overseas; and on numerous other boards and committees. He was a member of the Commission on Macroeconomics and Health, and the Commission on HIV and Governance in Africa. He has worked in international health and development for 40 years.

Professor Feachem holds a Doctor of Science degree in Medicine from the University of London, and a PhD in Environmental Health from the University of New South Wales. In 2007, he was awarded an honorary doctorate in engineering by the University of Birmingham. He is a Fellow of the Royal Academy of Engineering and an Honorary Fellow of the Faculty of Public Health Medicine of the Royal College of Physicians and of the American Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene. In 2002 he was elected to the membership of the Institute of Medicine of the US National Academy of Sciences. Sir Richard was knighted by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II in 2007. He was awarded the 2010 Sir Frank Whittle Medal by the Royal Academy of Engineering.
